An organization that has employees that are involved, enthusiastic about their work and act in a way that moves the company toward successful goal attainment, distinguishes itself in the marketplace.

This presentation will address these aspects of employee engagement:

What employee engagement is and isn't.

How to measure it. Proven tools and methods to use.

Moving the needle. You've got the data, now what? Creating a path to success.

Take away knowledge, practices and actions that you can use to heighten your team's sense of ownership and commitment.
